

DAY 1

U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs (OJP) and Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Programs (OJJDP) are pleased to announce:

Child Sex Trafficking: Law Enforcement Response – Build A Course

May 8, 2014 | Valparaiso, IN

Training Description

This training is designed to provide law enforcement investigators, human trafficking task force members and social service providers with the information necessary to properly understand, recognize, and investigate cases involving child sex trafficking and exploitation. Participants will delve deep into the dynamics of trafficking and exploitation to improve their skills related to interviewing the victim and interrogating the trafficker. This program focuses on a survivor's perspective and how their experiences can help investigators improve their response to future cases and lay the ground work for providing effective support and assistance to the survivor, while improving the overall investigation and prosecution of the offender

Who Should Attend

Law enforcement investigators, human trafficking task force members, social service providers, prosecutors, and NPO/NGOs are strongly encouraged to attend.
